ONE OF THE FRINGE BENEFITS, sort of, in putting out a special edition, like this one today commemorating the dedication of Campbell's new city hall, is the research that goes into it.

The difficulty is, of course, that the research phase often becomes so interesting that 'way too much time is spent on it and we become so engrossed in checking back files and other material that we run out of time.

And the deadline jumps right up before we know what hit us.

Putting out our first special dedicatory edition was interesting, to say the least, inasmuch as we, more or less, started from scratch. We weren't exactly sure what it should have in it.

And always there was the space factor to consider.

There just wasn't enough space, in some instances, to use some of the interesting information the research into the background of the community revealed.

A "special" is always time-consuming and trying to handle it while conducting business as usual often becomes a wee bit complicated and frustrating.

But somehow we manage, and the end result generally seems to justify the extra effort and time that all the staff put into it.

At least we hope so.

-0-

THE DEDICATION OF Campbell's $1 million plus city hall is an important milestone in this community.

And you should try to be on hand at 11 a.m. this Saturday, Sept. 25, when the ceremonies take place.

After all it is YOUR building and your taxes will pay for it.

But it is easy to take pride in the city hall.

One does not have to work too hard at that, for it is an attractive structure.

The cooperation we received in putting together this special clearly indicated that this feeling of pride was not limited just to people.

The 24-page section contains congratulatory messages to the city from 22 different firms and institutions. It was these firms that made the issue a reality.

And, undoubtedly, if a ceiling had not been set on the size of the special section, other members of the business community would have been represented.

-0-

THERE WAS A WHOLE raft of people outside the staff, of course, who contributed toward the special.

Bob Stephens, city manager, and his administrative assistant, John Ruppel, assisted in many ways, especially digging up data about the city, and Bruce Powell, of the planning department, furnished us some excellent photos.

And City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan took time out to peruse the minute books of the city to get the exact figures on the budget, etc.

Rusty Hammer, chairman of the Youth Commission, handled the youth section on his own, with only an assist or two from Sally.

Jeanette Watson was extremely cooperative in working with Sally on the "time capsule" and we think the review by the Rev. Corwin Olds, pastor emeritus of the Campbell Congregational Church, is a classic.

All in all it was a joint effort by many.

But that is how it should be.

After all how many times does one get a chance to help dedicate a city hall in one's lifetime?

CAMPBELL'S NEW CITY HALL

Dedication takes place Saturday

Ceremonies at 11 a.m. on Central "present" building

A milestone in the history of this community will occur this Saturday, Sept. 25, when Campbell's new $1-million plus city hall will be dedicated.

The dedicatory ceremonies are scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. near the front entrance of the building on Central Ave.

A map (drafted by the Public Works Department staff) of the parking areas available appears on this page. Central Ave. will be closed during the ceremonies.

Norm Paul, president of the Chamber of Commerce and vice-chairman of the Planning Commission, will be master-of-ceremonies for the program that will include the presentation of the U.S. flag by Rep. Charles Gubser and the raising of the colors by American Legion Post 158.

State Senator Clark Bradley will present the state flag to the city.

A special feature of the dedicatory program will be the massing of the colors involving both boy and girl organizations of the community.

The Rev. Corwin H. Olds, pastor emeritus of the Campbell Congregational Church will give the invocation. Dr. Olds was pastor of the local church from 1946-60 and was its pastor when the City of Campbell acquired the church building and converted it into the city hall that served this city from 1956 to 1971.

Campbell's new city hall has been constructed on property that was adjacent to the former church city hall and after the new structure was completed, the church building was demolished.

In commemoration of the historic significance of the dedication of the city hall, The Campbell Press, today is publishing a 24-page special city hall dedication section in tabloid form as a supplement to the regular issue.

Guests who will be introduced at the ceremony include State Senator Alfred Alquist, Assemblymen Alister McAlister and Richard D. Hayden and Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens.

A number of mayors from other cities in the county are also expected to be on hand as well as Clifford F. Loader, mayor of Delano and president of the League of California Cities. The League is holding its annual convention in San Francisco beginning Sunday.

The regular City Council meeting for Monday, Sept. 27, will not be held as most of the councilmen and key city personnel will be in attendance at the convention. The Council met in a special session last night (Tuesday) after press time.

The program includes the unveiling of the dedicatory plaque by Mayor Ralph Doetsch and his fellow councilmen. Mayor Doetsch will also welcome the people on behalf of the Council.

Part of the program will include a special recognition to Police Chief John D. Morgan, who was stricken on Feb. 13 and has been paralyzed since that time.

The police wing of the city hall will be dedicated to Chief Morgan. The Rev. W.H. (Ben) Gould will be in charge of that portion of the program and Mrs. Connie Morgan, wife of Chief Morgan, is expected to be present.

A feature of the clock tower presentation will be a replica of a time capsule which will be placed at the tower base which will include mementos of the dedication. Items for the capsule have been collected by Mrs. Jeanette Watson.

The clock tower will be presented by Hilton Hoyt, a student, and the Rev. Leonard W. Bose, pastor of St. Lucy's will give the benediction.

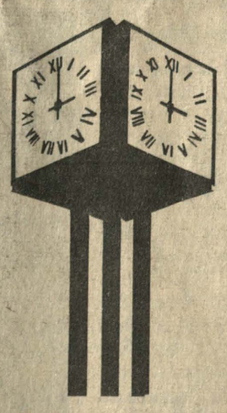
Following the program a reception and open house will be held and those in attendance will have the opportunity to tour the city hall.

Refreshments will be served in the lower lobby.

Assisting in the reception will be members of the Orchard City Grange, and Campbell Municipal Employees Association.

William H. Hedley, AIA, a Campbell architect was the designer of the building. Anthony M. Guzzardo & Associates was the landscaping architect firm.

R. V. Frazier Construction Co., a Campbell-based firm, was the contractor for the building and the landscaping was done by Fiske & Quatman.



TOPS $16 MILLION TO DATE

Building in Campbell breaks all records

Although August was a "slow month" in the building permit parade in Campbell, the total for the month exceeded that of August last year. It put the total valuation of permits issued to date over $16 million, almost $11 million ahead of the same period last year, according to Wally Byron, building official.

And this year's record-breaking building total has already exceeded the total for all of last year by almost $10 million.

With four months to go, indications are that the total for the 12 months of 1971 will top $20 million, by far the greatest year in the history of the city.

The August total for permits was $297,858 compared to $228,104 for the same month last year.

The figure included $17,485 for a single-family dwelling for Garland Stonecipher at 1185 Steinway. This year there have been four permits to date for single-family-residential homes totalling $89,255. During 1970 there were no single-family permits issued by Byron's office.

The largest permit for August was taken out by Peter Paulson of Paulson Homes, Inc. for a professional office building at 137 E. Hamilton.

Another good-sized permit was issued to Ray Kanawyer for a four-unit apartment at 780 West Valley Dr.

Joseph Herr was issued a permit for an industrial building for $29,568 at 279 Dillon Ave., while Shell Oil obtained a $18,000 permit for remodeling a station at 2855 Winchester.

During August alteration permits totalled $35,023 raising the total for the year to $360,082. Demolition permits came to $8,100 for the month for a total of $11,100 for the year to date.

The building of swimming pools in town continued at an accelerated rate. There were five such permits in August for $20,600 and a total of 37 for the year to date for $104,080. Last year at the same time there had been 22 pool permits for $71,990.

And there have been even more sign permits issued this year than last.

In August there were 12 sign permits for $17,000 bringing the yearly total to 57 for $72,465. Last year for the first eight months there had been only 27 sign permits taken out for $28,820.

But it has been in the multiple field where the

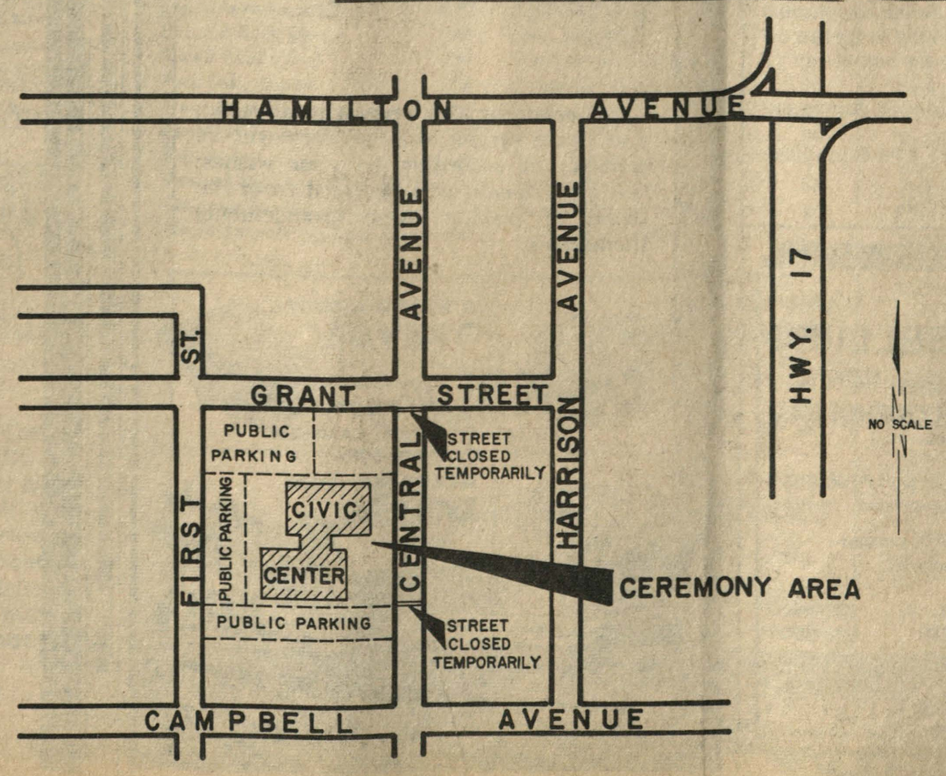
COUNCIL CHAMBERS IN NEW CITY HALL



AT THURSDAY'S LUNCHEON

C of C to host school chiefs

Heads of the three school systems that serve the Campbell area, elementary, high school and junior college, will discuss the educational problems that face their districts at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting this Thursday, Sept. 23.

The noon luncheon meeting will be held at the Royal Fork at 1730 W. Campbell Ave., in the Kirkwood Plaza.

Bob Peck, principal of Campbell High and CofC educational chairman, is in charge of the program.

Each of the superintendents, Jim D'Avis, Campbell Union (elementary) School District; Dr. Nick Montesano, Campbell Union High School District and Jim Hardy, West Valley College, will speak at the luncheon.

The educators will be allotted seven minutes each to present their "cases" and then the meeting will be turned into a questions and answer forum with the school chiefs fielding questions from the floor.

The luncheon meeting this Thursday is the first that has been scheduled since May, and will be the first of the new "season".

A last-minute financial report will be given of the clock tower at the civic center, which will be dedicated this Saturday, Sept. 25.

The Chamber of Commerce undertook the job of raising $5000 that was needed to construct the tower after, in the interest of economy, it was removed from the plans for the center by the City Council.

A kiddies' matinee and a movie premiere raised $3000, and the CofC then instituted a drive to raise the balance from individual donors.

A final appeal is expected to be made at Thursday's luncheon to raise the $500 that is still needed.

The CofC office reported that $200 had been raised by contributions this week raising the total that has been collected so far from individuals to $1064.

Contributors this week included Mayor Ralph Doetsch, Breuners, Don Callahan, CPA, James Maffei, Cupertino Nursery, Ed Fabbri, Crocker Bank, United Rent-All, Benson's Campbell Cleaners and De-Luxe Check Printers.

CofC members planning to attend Thursday's meeting are asked to make reservations at the Chamber of Commerce office (378-6252).

CAMPBELL UNION (elementary) SCHOOL DISTRICT

Trustees reveal that Neal Royer is not now employee of district

In answer to the question raised in a letter to the trustees by Jim Gilliland, former board member, the board of trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District last Thursday responded that Neal Royer, former superintendent until demoted last October, is not an employee of the district for the 1971-72 school year.

The trustees did not expand on the statement.

Gilliland had submitted in his letter that it was well known that Royer, according to unconfirmed reports, had taken a position with the Atascadero school system, but that the board minutes did not indicate his absence from the district.

Gilliland pointed out that it was well known that Royer had a contract with the district. He asked if he was still being paid on it.

It was indicated that the trustees had been advised by the county counsel not to amplify the statement because of pending litigation.

From the tax election steering committee report on Tuesday night, the board learned that the group had determined that a tax election would be necessary during the fiscal year because the general purpose rate will drop from $2.55 to $1.80 unless the electorate gives approval to continue or raise the rate.

The committee has suggested that the election be held in February 1972.

In another action last Thursday, the board approved the implementation of the Family Life Education program, as submitted by the Citizens Advisory Committee on July 1.

This includes a continuation of the 7th-8th grade program and minimal program for grades 4-6 by 1972-73 and in K-3 by 1974-75.

The programs will follow the state guidelines and that current FLE teachers will assist in the in-service training for future FLE leaders.

YOUR city hall

Those citizens of this community who have not yet had the opportunity to visit Campbell's new city hall, should take advantage of the program that is scheduled for 11 a.m. this Saturday, Sept. 25, when the new city hall will be dedicated.

Those attending the ceremonies will be able to tour the city hall and get a first hand viewpoint of, among other things, how your tax dollars are being spent.

All of us who live or work in this city, should take pride in this beautiful new civic building that houses the city administration.

But the Campbell city hall is more than just an attractive modern facility housing city personnel.

It symbolizes the results of citizen involvement unparalleled in this city's history.

The new $1-million city hall for Campbell came about as a direct result of the bond issue that was approved by the citizens of this city in October 1967.

That election was, in a sense, a mandate from the citizens of this community directing that the city hall be built.

But that mandate revealed something else.

It emphasized that the citizens of this city had a civic pride that had been somewhat dormant for the first 15 years of this city's existence.

What was even more important was that the citizens by their favorable vote indicated that they were willing to foot the bill to build a better community.

Prior to that mandate by the voters, the city administration had no guideline to follow as to what the people wanted from their city government.

And there had been a few malcontents around who had maintained over the years that there was no real excuse for the City of Campbell to exist in the first place. They had claimed that the people really didn't want to exercise "home rule" through their own city government. They couldn't care less, it was said.

But the bond election in 1967 changed all that.

The malcontents have been strangely silent since the voters officially made their desires known via the ballot box.

By their vote, the citizens clearly pointed the way that the city administration should take. The people indicated by their ballots that they were willing to pick up the tab.

We are well aware that there has been criticism of the new city hall from many quarters.

There are those who submit that the civic center is far too plush.

Others claim that the city hall building is far too large for the City of Campbell.

Undoubtedly the City of Campbell could have had a far less plush city hall.

And the floor space could have been cut considerably.

On the other hand, it must be remembered that a civic center is not constructed to satisfy the current needs of the city.

The city hall is going to be around for a long time.

Unless some disaster strikes, the city hall that is to be dedicated this Saturday, will be in existence long, long after all of us have passed on.

A case in point is that in the 20 years that Campbell has been in existence, the population of the city has tripled.

Who is to say what the future holds.

Campbell's city hall then is a symbol for the future as well as the present.

The city hall that will be dedicated this Saturday is a tangible result of the people's mandate.

It is YOUR city hall. You actually "started" it in the fall of 1967 when you approved the bond issue.

And you have every right to be proud of what has been accomplished.

The city government has merely carried out your directive.

"time capsule" in which Jeanette is involved in is geared to the year 2071.

The idea is, we understand, that the tape recorded messages that will be in the capsule will be addressed to the people who will be around these parts a hundred years from now.

That in itself is sort of intriguing.

No doubt there are many around who question whether this ever-changing world we are living in now will make it through another century.

-0-

THE TIME CAPSULE will be placed in the base of the clock tower.

The clock tower is another bit of evidence of community pride.

When, in the interest of economy, the city council decided that the clock tower was eliminated from the final plans for the city hall, the Chamber of Commerce undertook the job of spearheading a drive to raise the $5000 that was needed to construct it.

Approximately $3000 was raised from kiddies matinees and a premiere.

Individual contributions on a "soft sell" basis have been sought to raise the balance that was needed.

Only a few hundred dollars are needed to reach the goal and Chamber of Commerce people are hopeful that enough contributors will come through before Saturday so that it can be announced at the program that the clock tower is all paid for.

-0-

WE THINK THE CLOCK tower is an important part of the civic center complex.

True, the $5000 that it cost appears insignificant when compared to the $1 million city hall.

But the clock tower will stand out as something the people did on their very own.

And that is important.

Norm Paul, a member of the Planning Commission and president of the Chamber of Commerce, will be master-of-ceremonies at the dedication ceremony on Saturday.

Norm was one of the original pushers for the clock tower and was instrumental in getting the CofC wound up for the fund drive.

Norm admits that Campbell's clock tower does not compare with London's legendary "Big Ben".

We understand, however, that Norm has called it "Little Ben" a time or two.

Golly, maybe he was planning to use that line when he will be MCing this Saturday.

In that case, forget that you read it here first.

-0-

AS WE ALL KNEW IT would, but were beginning to have some doubts, the torrid heat wave that enveloped the area finally went the way of all heat waves.

But it was pretty torrid for a spell.

For a couple of days, this area was among the leaders in the temperature derby.

On one of those days, our brother-in-law, Ken Grimes, who lives in Fresno, which swelters consistently during the summer months, called us.

He invited us over to Fresno to "cool off".

He doesn't have that chance very often.

-0-

FOR POSTERITY (OR something) we thought we should record the temperature in The Press via a picture of the thermometer at the First National Bank, when the mercury went past the 100-degree mark.

The revolving bank sign was not revolving at the time. So we could not shoot it from the ground level.

But Tom State, manager of the branch, rose to the occasion.

He gave us permission to go through the attic and then onto the roof of the building. There we could get a straight shot of the sign.

In fact, Tom even accompanied City Manager Bob Stephens, who was along, and us on the climb to the rooftop.

So there we were, the three of us, at 3 p.m. in what was probably the hottest spot in town.

The thermometer registered 103-degrees at the time and that was the picture that was run in The Press.

Of course, we appreciated the company of Bob and Tom on our rooftop safari.

But there were probably a number of people around who wondered why three guys would be dopey enough to leave an air-conditioned bank to get out in the sun on the roof on the hottest day of the year.

We, of course, had an excuse.

Bob and Tom didn't have a camera.

And we did.

Planners okay new restaurant

Planning Commission approval on Monday night was granted a restaurant across from the PruneYard at 980 E. Campbell and a proposed 56-unit garden apartment complex at 2265 S. Bascom near Bohnett School.

Herfy's Corporation, a Seattle-based concern, received approval of revised plans for a 3000 square foot building on Campbell Avenue at Barbano Avenue with the stipulation that landscaping plans must be presented for approval to the Commission.

Plans for a 56-unit apartment on a panhandle-tvpe parcel with 80-feet on Bascom were submitted by Alan Rubnits.

The Commission also approved the revised plans for the Kunkel - Thomas single-family project of 29 units on Sunnyoaks Avenue.

Anthony Morici was granted an extension of one year for plans for the commercial portion of the former Gomes Ranch property.

A dance permit was approved for R. A. Scialabba of "Mr. Magoo's" (formerly Dante's) at 1545 W. Campbell and the Commission recommended a zone change for the Cardiff Affair on Union Avenue to P-D (planned development) from the present R-3.

The request was made by Fred Sahadi so as to more accurately reflect the uses existing on the property.

Approved also was the request of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Keeney, of 2167 Abbey Lane, for a sideyard variance to allow for a second story.

The application of Eichler Associates for a 64-unit townhouse complex on W. Latimer was withdrawn to allow for resubmission of a zone change from P-D to R-2-S.

During the study session after the meeting was adjourned, the Commission discussed tentative plans for holding hearings on the review of the general plan of the city.

Jim D'Avis reported that the district enrollment of 10,335 on opening day was lower than anticipated. An enrollment of 10,800 had been expected. D'Avis added that 10,491 had been enrolled by Wednesday of the first week and he expected that by the end of the first month (Oct. 8) the district would get a better understanding as to what to expect.

D'Avis submitted also that it may be necessary to make a few adjustments in class assignments because of size, but that it would not be necessary to reduce the total number of teachers.

The board also authorized the sale of $2,590,000 in bonds, including all the unsold bonds from the 1964 $5 million authorization.

The board also accepted the resignation of Ernie Leick head of district maintenance effective on Dec. 31, 1971, when he will retire. Leick has been with the district since 1955.

The first variety show of the year will be a faculty-student production which will be open to the public on Saturday, October 2, at 8 p.m. in Campbell's auditorium. Proceeds will go to Campbell High's drama commission.

Church expansion aids Community involvement

by Barbara Price

Community involvement is a reality at the Congregational Church of 400 W. Campbell Ave., where Anthony Wayne Myers has been the minister for five years.

The church has an outreach into local life by providing adult education, child care facilities, AA meetings, and a new theater group.

Church members provide a nursery, volunteer tutors and transportation for the adult education English classes now held in Bennett Hall.

Another service is the daily child care center held from 6:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. at a nominal cost for working mothers.

According to Reverend Myers, the sense of community spirit at the church is responsible for the current building project, which is now at midpoint.

The construction done in two parts, is in accordance with the master plan of the church's former pastor, Dr. Corwin Olds.

Half of the building project will be a fellowship hall and dining room, along with plans for rebuilding the present kitchen.

Two classrooms, to be used for adult education, and designed to complete the current mall structure, comprise the other half of the project.

Several years ago the church was awarded funds for the building project by the United Church of Christ, on the merit of their outstanding community involvement. Church members have also donated money for the construction, which is being done by the Warren F. Crinklaw Co.

A community open house is being planned upon completion of the buildings. As Reverend Myers says, "The church is being expanded for the good of the community."

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

The new dart season is almost upon us and as predicted the Northern California Darts Assn. has grown to 80 teams. New pubs in the South Bay and El Camino Leagues are the Club Gato in Los Gatos, Lava Pit and Prince of Wales in San Mateo. The Black Watch and Scarlett La Rue's in Los Gatos also added teams. There are now 12 teams between Los Gatos and Campbell.

The biggest increase came in the East Bay's Chabot and Diablo Leagues. The Gay 90's in Pleasant Hill fielded six teams. There is a total of 30 teams between the two leagues.

At the North American Open we had the chance to talk with Tommy Kerr, the president of the New York group. He was amazed at the number of teams on the West Coast. They brag that they have 18 teams in New York.

Between the two California associations, Nor - Cal and SCDA, there are more than 1500 registered dart players in the State. This does not include the very active Monterey Dart Club or the players at the Catylist in Santa Cruz.

Less than 5% of these players belong to the United States Dart Assn. But the USDA claims they are the "Supreme Authority on Darting in the United States." Neither Nor-Cal nor SCDA recognize them. The only thing the USDA has that might interest California players is a tournament in New York City each December. Last year's tournament was touted as $5000; it turned out to be more like $2200.

The USDA tournament also requires that you be a member of the USDA. Southern Cal's North American Open is just that, open to all players regardless of club affiliation. Conversation with representatives of eastern dart clubs that have affiliated with the USDA, showed that all they got from the USDA was the right to pay their dues and receive a bi-monthly newsletter.

The USDA has approached the Northern California Darts Assn. about running a regional dart tournament. All participants would have to be members of the USDA. The Nor-Cal board tabled the request pending further information from USDA as to what benefits Nor-Cal members would receive. Competition Secretary Bob Hughes wrote the USDA in June. The USDA has not as yet answered that letter.

As near as we can find out there are no larger organized dart leagues than Nor-Cal and SCDA. We understand that Detroit has 33 teams but all the teams play out of private clubs.

Sweet Adelines sing for CASOLS

Sweet Adelines of the Mission Valley Chapter will present "Barbershop Hi Lites" at the Los Gatos High School Auditorium on Saturday, Sept. 25 at 8 p.m.

Several quartets will sing in addition to the blue ribbon championship chorus, directed by Fred Gonzalez.

Featured on the show will be the Metropolitans, international Queens of Harmony of Sweet Adelines, recently returned from a USO entertainment tour of Vietnam.

Among the quartets who will sing are "The Outer Limits", who also toured Vietnam; "The Premiers", 1971 regional champion quartet; and "The Tempos", another chapter quartet.

A guest quartet from SPEBSQSA, Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Peninsula Chapter, will also entertain.

The entire proceeds from the show will benefit CASOLS, California School of Learning Systems, a nonprofit school which helps children with special learning problems.

Those interested in ticket information may call 356-7991.

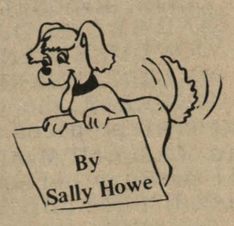
Bringing up fido



The family pet is always an easy conversation piece.

Almost everyone has had, or knows someone with a dog.

Dogs are currently seen in television commercials, magazine advertising or used to soften the image of the local politician.

There is also as much misinformation concerning the life of a dog as there is about national issues.

On the slightest provocation, some people will come up with wild tales about killer dogs, phantom dogs, dog-nappers and impossible heroic feats.

Dogs are great.

Fortunately for man, they love us.

But not all dogs are temperamentally sound (but then, neither are all people).

Not all dogs enjoy the best of health (and neither do all people).

Not all dogs are intelligent (but the ratio seems far greater than for people, sometimes).

There are as many schools of thought on how to treat a dog as there are breeds.

An interesting pet is owned by the spoiler. He's the guy whose Fido is so pampered that if left alone for more than an hour he wreaks "punishment" on his family. (Punishment usually takes the form of a wet spot on the rug. Explains the owner, "he just couldn't wait.")

The neighborhood wanderer is owned by that family that insists he's so smart that "he'll come home."

What they don't recognize is that on his way home he 1) almost knocks down an elderly walker; 2) frightens a toddler; 3) messes on TWO lawns and 4) nearly causes an accident when he saunders across the street.

Lonely dogs frequently while away the hours howling, barking and chewing up the rhododendron.

There isn't any magic formula of dog care, but the basic rules are: 1) no dog should be allowed out of his yard unattended; 2) adequate food, water and shelter are essential; 3) annual immunizations are necessary if the pet is going to enjoy a long and healthy life and 4) love and attention--a kind word and a gentle pat is little payment for loyalty and devotion.

Air rides are part of benefit

A benefit air show for the Cathy Feuling Fund will be held Sunday, October 3, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Reid Hillview Airport in east San Jose with displays of antique and Reno Air Races airplanes, experimental and modern aircraft and gliders.

The show will benefit the Feuling Fund, established in memory of a former hospital worker at Alexian Brothers and Stanford hospitals who spent the last 20 months of her life in a coma at Santa Clara Valley Medical Center. She died in 1969.

Those attending the show will be eligible for rides in antique aircraft. Miss Santa Clara County, Nancy Lynn Maloney, will take part in the show. It is being sponsored by Lenert von Clemm of the Antique Airplane Association.

Money raised by the benefit will go toward the purchase of an intracranial monitor for the use of brain injured patients at Santa Clara Valley Medical Center. The device consists of a pressure sensor implanted surgically in the skull of such patients under general or local anesthesia.

The sensor is connected to a pressure recorder enabling the hospital staff to follow the progress of the patient. The monitor also warns of any sudden changes in intracranial pressure. The monitor will be the first of its kind to be acquired by a South Bay area hospital.

Cathy Feuling worked at Alexian Brothers Hospital for three years before her death, devoting many hours of her own time to the care of brain injured patients. She was interested in such patients because her mother had suffered from a brain tumor and was in a coma for some time before her death.

She was working at Stanford Medical Center at the time she was injured. Additional contributions to the Cathy Feuling Fund may be made through the Volunteer Auxiliary at Santa Clara Valley Medical Center.

Highland dance class offered

Scottish Highland dancing has been added to the Thursday evening schedule of classes offered by the San Jose YWCA, 210 South Second St., with sessions at 6 and 7 p.m.

Highland dancing, which includes the well known sword dance, originated as a form of exercise for Scottish royal soldiers. Now it is practiced by the military, but is also enjoyed by women as a means of developing physical fitness and agility. Instruction will also include some National dancing, a Highland-type dance with a feminine touch, reflecting the alliance of Scotland with France. No special shoes will be required.

Instructor is Mrs. Margaret Moore of San Jose. Scottish country dancing is also offered Thursday evenings by John and Jennifer Kelly. Wednesday evenings Miss Jo Buttitta teaches ballroom, folk and Latin American dancing.

BAY LEAVES

Bay leaves are among the world's oldest herbs; wreaths made of them were used by Greeks and Romans to crown their heroes.

Job's Daughters

Members of Jobs Daughters, Campbell Bethel, 174, recently stepped back into the gold-rush era when they visited the historical town of Columbia.

Since the journey required an early start the thirty girls, parents and chaperones left the bus station at 5:30 a.m., arriving in Columbia at 9.

The fun included exploring the town's turn of the century cemetery and schoolhouse.

The girls rode through the town in an authentic Western stage coach, and enjoyed a picnic lunch under fine old shade trees.

Bethel 174 returned from Columbia late in the evening after a full and exciting day.

Berets make a clean sweep

The West Valley Berets continued to show promise as they posted their second successive clean sweep of the season over the De Anza Knights Football Club Sunday.

All three of the P.A.L. - Pop Warner football teams won by substantial margins: Green Berets over the Knights by 20 to 0, Gold Berets over the Lancers by 44 to 0, and the Red Berets over the Squires by 24 to 7.

Next Sunday, Sept. 26, will again be a "triple-header" at home for the Berets as they meet the Santa Clara Lions, Cubs, and Wildcats. Games are at 10 a.m., noon, and 2 p.m., at Westmont High School stadium.

The public is invited to attend all of the games. There is no admission charge.

Art gallery opens at West Valley

West Valley College's Viking Art Gallery located on the Campbell campus, is opening its second successful year today with a show featuring works of the college's instructors as well as members of the staff.

From 6 to 9:30 p.m. this evening the public is invited to view the works, meet the artists and share in refreshments.

The instructors' show will close Oct. 15.

Other shows throughout the fall semester includes an engineering architecture model building show, featuring student work, opening Oct. 20; "Man and Materials", student work, opening Nov. 17; and a photography and sculpture show, featuring both student and faculty work, opening Jan. 5.

Hours of the gallery during the semester will vary according to schedules of the volunteers working in the gallery.

BOY SCOUT

A massive recruiting program to enroll new members in the Boy Scouts of America is scheduled to take place simultaneously in seven Bay Area Counties the night of September 30.

From 7 to 9 p.m., all elementary schools will be open for interested boys and their parents to learn about Scouting, according to Jim Johnston, district director of the BSA Bay Area Council.

Johnston expressed appreciation for the cooperation of 7-Eleven Food Stores. During the next two weeks some 200 of them will be calling attention to "School Night for Scouting" with large store front banners and colorful window posters.

Depending on their ages, boys can become Cubs, Boy Scouts or Explorers. Parents can sign up to be unit leaders, Den Mothers, or other volunteer committee workers.

If existing units cannot absorb all of the new Scouts, Johnston said the boys and their parents will be able to meet with a Scout executive and a new unit organization formed immediately.

Counties participating, Johnston said, are San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Contra Costa, Alameda, Marin and Sonoma.

Good Sam Hospital has its sixth birthday today

The Good Samaritan Hospital of Santa Clara Valley is six years old today, Wednesday, Sept. 22, and in observance of the occasion, cake and coffee was served during afternoon break periods for employees, medical-dental staff members, auxilians, and other friends of the hospital.

In addition, the custom of sending anniversary babies home in special buntings will be initiated by the auxiliary, which also provides buntings for Christmas, Easter and Fourth-of-July babies.

As a part of the anniversary observance, service pins were awarded 115 employees at a reception recently in Village House, Los Gatos. Mrs. Dorothy Wade, bookkeeper, became the first employee to receive a 10-year service pin; she started with The Good Samaritan Hospital as a volunteer during the initial fund-raising drive and continued on as part of the employee staff after the work load became too heavy for a volunteer.

Campbell residents among those receiving five-year pins include Mrs. David Lopez of 304 Fairbanks Ave., Mrs. Jessie Torrez of 798 McGlincey Ln., Mrs. Dewey Childs of 953 Kenneth St., Mrs. Dale Dixon of 1391 Parsons Ave., Mrs. John Williams of 760 Jeffrey Ave., Mrs. Betty J. Cook of 749 Harriet Ave., Mrs. James Harland of 1112 Holmes, Mrs. Vivian Wallis of 191 Rosemary Ln., Mrs. Margaret Feasby of 1936 White Oaks Rd., David Canfield of Rose Court, Mrs. Mary Terpko of 1550 E. Campbell Ave., Mrs. James Young of 2293 Central Park Dr. and Mrs. Rolf Soltau of 1510 S. Bascom Ave.

VEHICLE COURSE

Army Private Michael I. Stutheit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Muriel I. Stutheit, of San Jose, and whose wife, Linda, lives in Campbell, recently completed an eight-week light vehicle driver course at Ft. Ord, Calif.

During the course, he was trained in the operation and maintenance of military vehicles or less than four and one-half tons rated capacity.

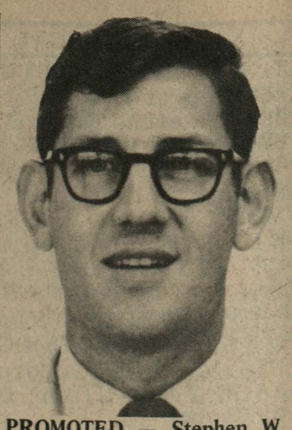
AT FT. BRAGG

Army Private First Class James A. Beaumont, son of Mrs. Mary Goodman, Portola, Calif., recently was assigned to the U.S. Army Airborne Communications and Electronics Board at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

His father, Bert W. Beaumont, lives at 1115 Salerno Dr., Campbell.

BIG HERD

The world's largest privately-owned cattle ranch is the Parker Ranch on the island of Hawaii.



PROMOTED --- Stephen W. Keller, administrative analyst at West Valley College, recently was promoted to supervisor of facilities planning and construction. His new duties include administering the necessary application and fiscal support procedures for the state construction program on the Saratoga campus. Keller has been at the college since March, 1969. He received his B.S. and MBA degrees from San Jose State College.

How would you like a nine ton boat in your backyard?

It took three years, but they made it.

On Labor Day, three years ago, Jerry O'Dell, 1369 Theresa Ave., and Ray Yearly started on a project.

The project was completed this past Labor Day and is a 44 foot, nine ton houseboat.

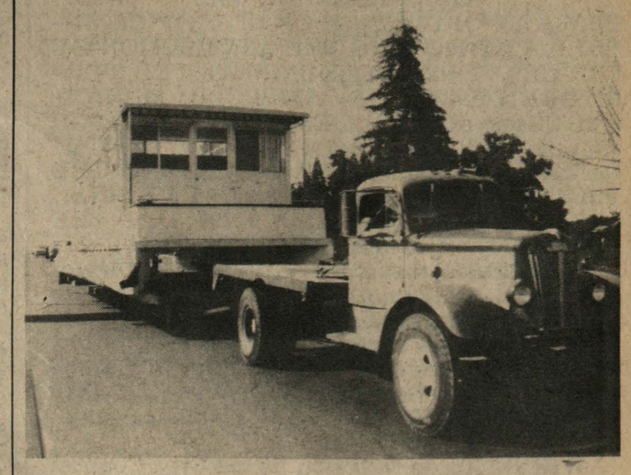
The two determined construction workers spent every spare minute on the boat and when it was towed to Alviso by housemovers recently, its enormous weight caused four flat tires to the housemovers rigs enroute.

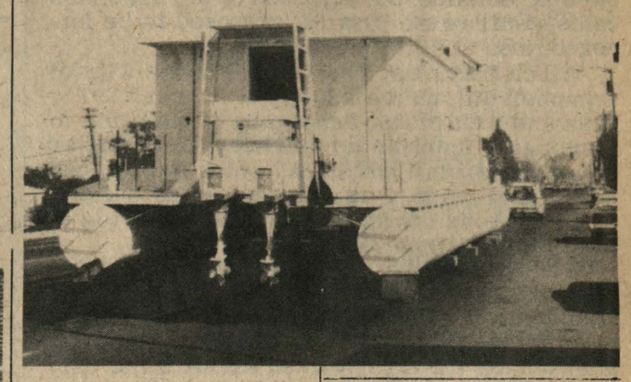
Yearly, the boat's owner, christened it "Laura Lee" after his 16 month old granddaughter. The boat sleeps ten people.

O'Dell, who contributed his backyard as the construction site, had the help and supervision of his family which includes his wife, a married daughter, Rosemary, a junior at Campbell High School; Mark, just back from Vietnam, and John, stationed at Fort Ord.

Cost of the boat was about $12,000, according to Mrs. O'Dell, who says "It took a lot of time and money." Several dozen friends helped with the construction and some of the material for the all metal craft was donated.

Yearly, whose family includes his wife, a son and a married daughter, plans to move the boat to Rio Vista, where it will provide a permanent retreat for he and his family.

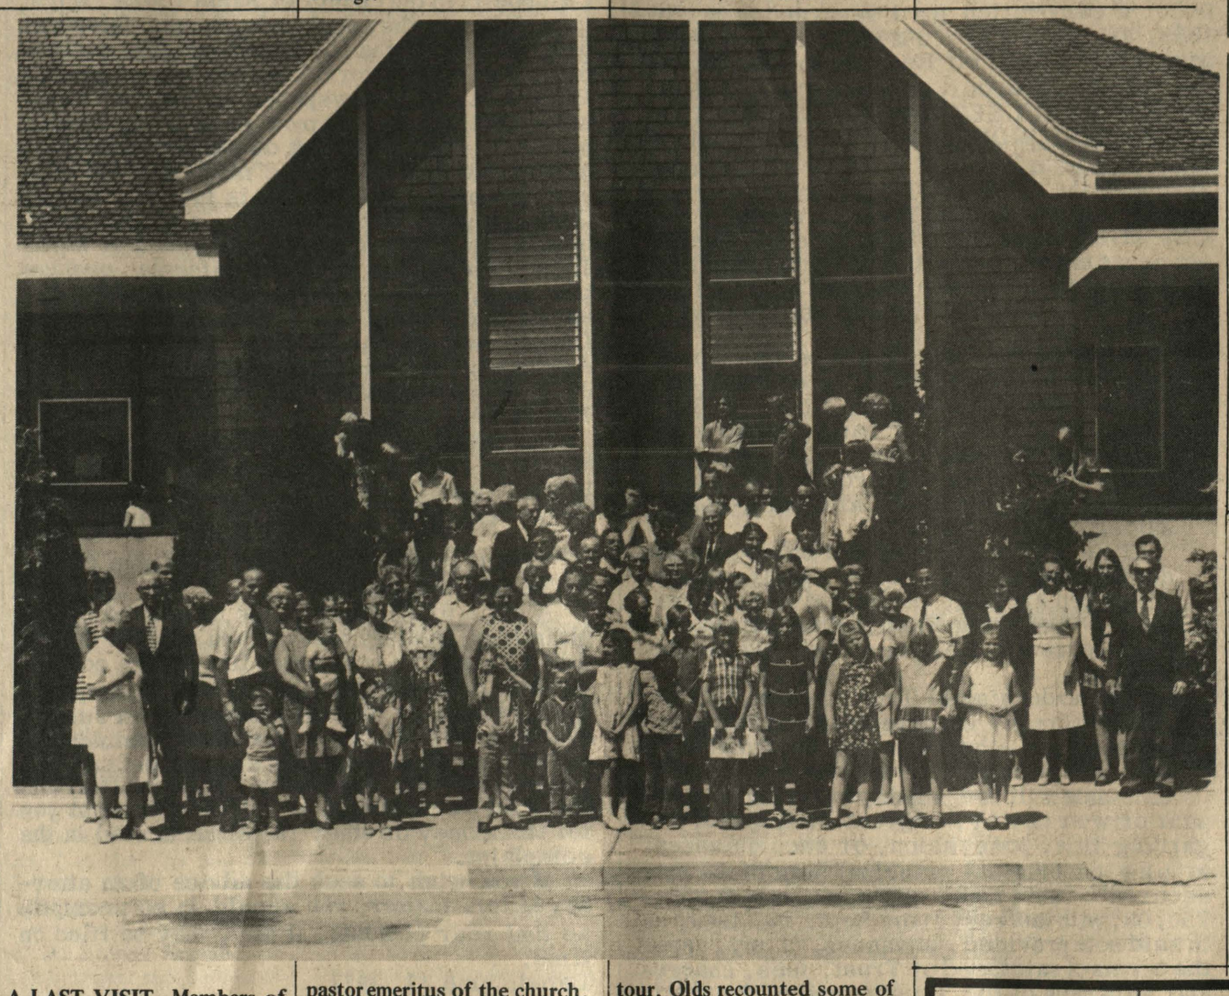




DOWN THE WINCHESTER--- Not too often are boats seen "floating" down Winchester Blvd., but this nine ton beauty built in the backyard of the Jerry O'Dell's, 1369 Theresa Ave., had to find some way to get to water, so a housemover hoisted the 44 foot houseboat onto wheels and hauled it to Alviso.

TRACK TRYOUTS

Girls interested in trying out for the Integra track team are reminded that they should report to Westmont High School track on Saturday, Sept. 25 at 10 a.m., wearing sweat shirts, shorts and tennis shoes. For information about the track club, call Gerald Harrington 378-4105 or Carl Smallwood, 251-9399.



A LAST VISIT---Members of the Congregational Church of Campbell paid a farewell visit to their former church at 75 N. Central Avenue, in use for the past 15 years as city hall for Campbell. The church was scheduled for demolition and old timers who remembered its use as a church were led on a tour of the building by Reverend Corwin Olds, pastor emeritus of the church. The tour was conducted following regular church services at the present church, 400 W. Campbell Ave. During the tour, Olds recounted some of the history of the church. On the far right in the picture is the present minister, Anthony Wayne Myers.

PROMOTED

Frances Wicklander has been promoted from general lending officer to assistant cashier-general lending officer at Bank of America's The PruneYard branch in Campbell, E. J. Fabbri, manager, announced recently.

Mrs. Wicklander, who has served at the branch since 1969, has also held lending responsibilities at the bank's Cambrian Park branch in San Jose and the Prospect-Saratoga branch and is active in the San Jose chapter of the Order of Eastern Star.

She and her husband, Archie, a supervisor with the Georgia Pacific Company, reside at 1454 Cronwell Dr.

Shown above with Dick and their prize are Daniel, left and Samuel, right, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Kuka. How can twins ride one bike at the same time? "Easy", says Daniel, "when I'm in front pedaling, Sammy sits behind me. When he's in front pedaling, I sit behind him". So we have three happy smiles.

Languages are available to area youngsters

An opportunity for cultural enrichment is opening to the children of this area by the Saratoga-Los Gatos children's language program.

The program, in its 13th year this October, will be offering classes in beginning and intermediate French, German, Spanish and Italian for children in grades two through six.

The fee for the nonprofit program of 24 lessons is $15. Parents may attend the classes at no extra cost.

Children who have taken advantage of this exploration of other languages have found the classes a head start for future language studies.

Through the cooperation of principals and teachers, classes will be held once a week after school.

Participating schools will be Saratoga, Foothill, Argonaut, and Congress Springs in the Saratoga District.

Classrooms will open for the program at the following Los Gatos District Schools; Daves, Van Meter, Ralph, Berry, Fisher and Blossom Hill.

Brookview is participating in the Moreland District, and Hansen in the Cupertino District.

Children in Campbell and Union School Districts are welcome to join the program and can obtain further information by contacting Mrs. Mario Belotti at 867-4971.

Continued growth of the language program was made possible through the enterprising efforts of Mrs. Belotti, who is chairman of the program.

Mrs. Belotti coordinated the formation of an independent corporation which continues to use teachers native to the language they teach.

The corporation members are Mrs. Mario Belotti, Mrs. Edward Panelli, Mrs. Thaddeus Whalen, Mrs. B. E. Fortson and Mrs. T. Donald McCarthy.

The program was originally organized by Mrs. Gwen Renniman.

Registration at the elementary schools will be held after school on Thursday, Sept. 23.

Schedules and details of registration will be sent home with the children.

It is essential to register on the designated days since a minimum of 12 students is needed to form each class.

High schools offer free lunch program

Free and reduced-price lunches are being made available to students of the Campbell Union High School District in compliance with recent Federal and State legislation, according to James Gillespie, of the high school district office.

Eligibility is extended to students from families receiving Aid for Families with Dependent Children where such aid is the only source of income, as well as other eligibility categories.

Applications may be obtained from the district office, 3235 Union Ave., San Jose, or from the individual high schools.

SENIORS

St. Lucy's Seniors, formerly Lucettes, will meet Monday, Sept. 27 at St. Lucy's hall at 11 a.m. All seniors attending should bring a sack lunch and dessert and coffee will be served. Moderator of the group is Father Henri Boisvert. For information call Anna Judd 379-9694.

Virginia Kolze honored by Garden Club

Mrs. Virginia Kolze was honored recently by the Campbell Garden Club. Mrs. Kolze, a member of the club since 1951, is moving to Southern California with her husband.

Three presentations were made to her by her friends in the club, including a life membership, an orchid corsage and a money tree in appreciation for her many services to the club.

Past members of the club were guests at the meeting. Mrs. Olive Parysek, who was president when Mrs. Kolze joined the club, and two past presidents, Mrs. Jean Prolo and Mrs. Dorothy Dunn were there to join in the festivities, as were former members Mrs. Mark Kallmar and Mrs. Eleanore Schrader.

Highlighting the refreshments was a cake made by Mrs. Bobbie Janes simulating a mobile home, which is what the Kolze's will occupy in their new location.

Chairman of the afternoon was Mrs. Opal Blohm. Mrs. Dorothy Smith assisted.

The club plans to hold a Christmas workshop on Wednesday, Sept. 29 at the home of Mrs. Virginia Marotti, 931 Monica Lane.

Children's theater holds tryouts for three musicals

The San Jose Children's Musical Theater, sponsored by the Cabrini Community Theater, will hold registrations and auditions for their winter workshop.

The smash musical hit, "Oliver", complete with orchestra and cast of over 100 youngsters, is to be produced as well as two one-act popular children's fairy tales in operetta form, "Hansel and Gretel" and "Little Red Riding Hood" as enrichment for the younger and less experienced children.

All productions will be presented to the public during January of 1972.

Registrations will be held on Sunday, Sept. 26 and Saturday, Oct. 2 from 1 - 4 p.m. at the St. Frances Cabrini Hall on Camden Ave.

Registration fee is $5.

Audition song is "Consider Yourself" from "Oliver". Any interested youngsters from 6 - 21 years of age who enjoy singing, dancing, acting, or technical theater work are encouraged to register.

Overseeing the entire workshop and directing the production of "Oliver" will be SJCMT Resident Director John P. Healy, Jr. of Stanford. Assisting him will be William Powell, technical director; Rick Dolen, stage manager and Patricia Healy, musical director, a professional violinist with the San Jose and Palo Alto Symphonies, who will direct the orchestra.

Any string, woodwind, brass, or percussion (including piano players) who are interested in playing the original Broadway score to this show should attend the registration or call 371-0232.

Following the SJCMT policy of encouraging young directors, "Hansel and Gretel" will be directed by Robbi Thornburg, Camden High School junior, assisted by Carol Valenti, and "Little Red Riding Hood" will be directed by Mark Healy, a sophomore from Leigh High, assisted by Alice Arico, Branham High sophomore.

"Oliver" is a musical based on the Dicken's classic "Oliver Twist". It opened on Broadway in 1963 and ran 774 performances and is considered one of the best shows of the '60's.

There are many excellent singing and character acting roles, including Fagin, the old Jew, Bill Sykes, the roughneck bully, Nancy, the heroine, and Artful Dodger, the teenage idol of Little Oliver. Among the hit songs were "As Long As He Needs Me" and "I'd Do Anything", and "Where is Love".

For further information, call 371-0232 or 377-6818.

Cousins speaks at college Friday

Norman Cousins, editor of one of the most influential voices in contemporary American journalism, will speak at West Valley College on Friday, Sept. 24, at 8 p.m.

Cousins, who has served as editor of "Saturday Review" for more than a quarter of a century, will speak on "An Environment for Survival".

During his lifetime he has argued for development of the United Nations into a world organization capable of enacting and enforcing world law; revamping educational curricula in order to bring the worlds of Asia and Africa within full view of the American student; and for a national and world program to combat the mounting dangers to the environment, including pollution in all its forms.

He has not confined himself to the pages of the "Saturday Review". Among programs initiated by Cousins was the "Hiroshima Maidens" project in 1955 when, with the generous help of physicians and other private citizens, he brought a group of young Japanese women disfigured by the bombing to this country for plastic surgery and other medical treatment.

Similarly, he arranged for medical treatment, in this country, in 1958 and 1959, of 38 Polish Catholic women who had been mutilated by Nazi medical experimenters during the Second World War.

Following a visit to Japan earlier, in 1949, he initiated a plan for providing proper care and education for some 440 children in Hiroshima who were orphaned by the 1945 bombing.

He was recently the head of a project entitled "Aid to Biafran Children" which supplied urgently needed drugs and medical services to the civilian population of Biafra.

Free tickets for Cousins' appearance at the Campbell campus auditorium, corner of Winchester Boulevard and Campbell Avenue, may be obtained from the Office of Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26, telephone 379-1733, ext. 58.

Real estate is seminar topic

A four session seminar for the homeowner and small investor interested in real estate will be held at West Valley College beginning October 6.

From 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. during the four Wednesday evening sessions, the following questions will be answered: What are the major pitfalls and problems of investing in real estate? Are small apartment units good investments? Can a single family home be a good investment?

Local real estate boards and West Valley College's Real Estate Advisory Committee are co-sponsoring the seminar.

During the first session William C. Powell, president of Anthony Schools of San Diego, will discuss "Comparative Investments". William L. Jacke Jr., realtor specializing in exchanging and investment properties and first vice-president of the San Jose Real Estate Board, will discuss "Keys to Successful Real Estate Investments" October 13.

The group, which has had seven consecutive hit records since 1968, is the second of the West Valley College's events during its fall cultural series.

A variety of classes given by West Valley

More than 30 classes will be offered this fall by West Valley College's Office of Community Services.

A non-fiction writers workshop will be held for 10 weeks on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. beginning Sept. 22. The course is for people who would like to be nonfiction, free-lance writers or whose job requires some type of technical or business writing skills.

Organic Gardening will be held on four Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. beginning Sept. 25. Methods of producing fruit, vegetables, flowers and ornamental trees, shrubs and ground covers in a manner compatible with nature will be demonstrated.

A course on "The Unity of Knowledge" will be held on Wednesday evenings, Sept. 22 through Feb. 2, from 7 to 10 p.m. This course is an attempt to relate science, philosophy, art, mathematics and communication to each other in one unified approach.

"Fundamentals of Integrated Microcircuit Fabrication" will be offered on Mondays from 7 to 10 p.m., Sept. 20 through Jan. 31. Purpose of this course is to acquaint assemblers, technicians and engineers with the basic practical knowledge of integrated microcircuit fabrication.

"Digital Computer Fundamentals" will be taught on Tuesdays, Sept. 21 through Dec. 14, from 7 to 10 p.m. The course is designed to provide the student with both practical and theoretical knowledge which can be applied to computer related jobs or used as a foundation for continuing courses in digital systems.

Sand-filled tubs become new traffic safety device

Tubs filled with sand, empty steel barrels and water-filled plastic tubes are the latest items approved for use as traffic safety devices for use on California freeways.

Test installations that feature one of the odd trio are being made at locations where out-of-control vehicles could ram headon into a bridge pier, sign support or similar fixed object.

In recent years, more people have been killed on California freeways in accidents involving only one car and a fixed object than by any other single cause. The all time high was in 1966 when 240 such fatal mishaps occurred.

Since then, California Division of Highways engineers have made basic changes in freeway design, eliminated many fixed objects and shielded those that must remain in place to reduce the frequency and severity of the single car accident.

They have experienced some success and in 1970—although freeway travel has increased substantially—the number of such fatal collisions dropped to 182.

As one phase of the program, the Division's Materials and Research Laboratory began to seek ways of controlling and spending the energy other than through the use of guardrail.

Guardrail is usually adequate when hit at a comparatively flat angle because much of the energy is harmlessly dissipated as the vehicle is deflected. But unfortunately, when a guardrail is hit at a sharp angle or headon a substantial portion of the energy is spent in damaging the vehicle.

The researchers sought to overcome this handicap through devices that serve as cushions between the solid object and moving vehicle. Called impact energy attenuators, they are particularly effective at locations where the deflection qualities of guardrail cannot be fully used.

One type consists of a series of empty steel drums mounted in the same form as a set of bowling pins. The barrels are fastened to each other and when struck, each one must be crushed in sequence.

A somewhat similar system requires the offending car to break down and force its way through a series of plastic tubs filled with sand.

The third requires the vehicle to force water from an assembly of plastic tubes at a controlled rate.

A Family Affair

Nothing beats the sheer fun and stimulation you get from a ride on a Schwinn bike. More and more healthy, hearty outdoor enthusiasts are losing themselves to the charm and excitement of modern cycling.

The young in heart are turning to bicycles to get the best out of life. You see them everywhere . . . happy, healthy people who know the benefits of regular exercise.

"We ought to replace the automobile with bicycles . . . it would be better for our coronaries, our disposition, and certainly our finances."
. . . Dr. Irvine H. Page, president, American Heart Association."

"I think the bicycle is one of the great unappreciated vehicles for good, wholesome exercise that can be continued to a considerable age."
. . . Dr. W. W. Bauer, director emeritus, Bureau of Health Education, American Medical Association."
